Velana: Added value for cardboard boxes

Adding value to cardboard packaging: Fripa Velana®

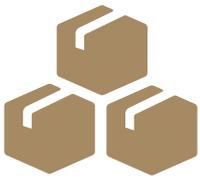

The use of waste paper for the production of hygiene paper has been established for decades. Until now, mainly newspapers and paper waste from offices have been recycled into toilet paper, towels and wipes. However, due to advancing digitalisation, the proportion of this waste paper is decreasing every year. This is offset by the increase in paper resources for mail order and online retail. The demand for and consumption of cardboard packaging has risen steadily in recent years.

Therefore, the recycling of cardboard packaging offers great potential for alternative and sustainable use of raw materials. Fripa gives this packaging new value and recycles it into soft paper in natural colours.

Focus on the future

With over 75 years of experience in paper manufacturing and innovative ideas for products and services, Fripa is breaking new ground with a focus on the future.

Thanks to intensive development work, Fripa is constantly bringing new products to market. For its latest product development, Velana®, cardboard and cardboard packaging are now also being recycled and used to produce soft, hygienic toilet paper and towels.

Fripa deliberately avoids the use of bleach in the production of paper from recycled cardboard. The natural colour shows that this paper combines the careful use of resources with a focus on optimum functionality – hygiene paper today.

Soft, hygienic, unbleached Velana® toilet paper

You can choose between 2-ply and 3-ply toilet paper. For high-traffic washrooms, the 2-ply version is also available with 400 sheets per roll.
